Oh well, I'm punching down a tree
I'm gonna build myself a bench
I'm gonna fabricate an axe
Before I sit back and relax

Gotta work before the sun goes down
Before the Zombies and the creepers come round
And then I'll hide inside my hut until the sun comes up

Oh well, I'm cuttin down some grass
I'm gonna plant myself some grain
I'm gonna cut the harvest down
So I can do it all again

Oh, I'm workin in the fields all day
Til the spiders come out to play
And the skeletons fight in the meadow all Night

Oh, well, I'm delving down below
Where the molten lava flows
I'm gonna find myself some ore
That'll help me with my chores

I'll melt that metal down
I'll have iron by the pound
And then I'll lay down rail
In a coal cart trail

And when I'm buff I'll run around

And hunt those zombies down
I want some carrot and potatoes
They don't have any tomatoes
But I have some ponies now

Oh, well, I want to play some more
But survival is a bore
So I'm gonna take the challenge
And make it hard core

In Minecraft

I'll start over and over again
Hold my breath and count to ten
And then I'm gonna go bananas
When I reach Minecraft nirvana
